

specification is the more accurate and faithful translation of the title, as it therefore requested that the title be changed to the title that more accurately identifies this invention, and as it has been translated by our Japanese associate and translator.

IN THE ABSTRACT:

Please enter this application with the Abstract as is appears in the enclosed English language translation of the original and published Abstract. Similar to the above request concerning the title, the translation of the Abstract as shown in PCT Publication No. WO/2004/052653 was done at the IB, and our Japanese associate and translator has indicated that this Abstract is not accurate. According to our Japanese associate and translator, this invention concerns “stencil material and a stencil making system” rather than a “mimeograph paper roll and mimeograph plate making apparatus” as has been translated in the Publication. The Abstract as it appears in the enclosed English translation is the more accurate and faithful translation of the Abstract, and it therefore requested that the Abstract be changed to the Abstract that more accurately identifies this invention, and as it has been faithfully translated by our Japanese associate and translator.
